

About the Medal...

Hoffman Mint proudly presents "WOLVES", the newest addition to the series of calendar medals commemorating North America's threatened animals.

This 1998 Calendar Medal incorporates the artfully sculpted design by Caesar Rufo and portrays one of this country's most misunderstood and persecuted predators: the gray wolf. Each solid bronze medal has been meticulously

"WOLVES",
The 1998
Calendar Medal, is shown at
actual size: 3"

*Each medal contains a beautifully sculpted image
and a meticulously detailed calendar.*

crafted and is a collaboration of the finest artisans in the nation. From Mr. Rufo's sculpture, a highly skilled team of Hoffman Mint craftsmen created intricately engraved dies with which to strike the 3" medal. An antique finish was then applied, resulting in a beautiful work of medallion art that will last forever. This is a limited edition, so only 10,000 "WOLVES" will be struck, each individually edgemarked with its own serial number and the official hallmark of Hoffman Mint. The 1998 Calendar Medal is exquisitely packaged and is accompanied by a solid walnut display stand, an educational story card and a certificate of authenticity. As an addition to an existing collection or as a breathtaking gift, "WOLVES" is sure to create a lasting impression.