CALENDAR ART MEDAL

"Oceana"

THE NEW
2004 CALENDAR
AVAILABLE IN BOTH
BRONZE AND SILVER

In A Place Where Time Stands Still

On a quiet ocean bluff where time stands still, Oceana pauses in the present and looks toward the future. In her hand she holds a spiraling conch shell which symbolizes the turning of the universe which is also depicted by the passing of the days of the 2004 calendar on the reverse side of the medal. In the quiet splendor of the moment, waves can be seen hitting the beach as they build upon the sands of time. Behind Oceana's wind blown robes stands a gnarled aged tree which symbolizes our roots in history as we grow into the skies of possibility. The creation of this meticulously struck and beautifully engraved calendar medal is the result of a collaboration of the skilled team of Hoffman Mint craftsmen. Each calendar medal is individually marked with its own serial number and the official hallmark of Hoffman Mint. "Oceana" is packaged in a deluxe presentation gift box, and is accompanied by a solid walnut wood display stand and a certificate of authenticity. To enhance its value we are strictly limiting the striking of "Oceana" to only 5,004 numbered pieces after which the dies will be defaced and permanently retired. Calendar Medals are unique and thoughtful gifts of art for friends, loved ones and business associates. This is a practical item to be enjoyed throughout the year, and each year as it gains in value as a collector's item. Demand for the medal will certainly be high. The sooner you order, the lower your serial number will be, making the medal more valuable. Hoffman Mint founded in 1980, is the preferred choice for customers around the world and offers the finest workmanship available in the United States.

This Year's Limited Edition Art Medal is 3" in diameter and the actual size is pictured.
